

The Dewyletter

October 2025

Updates across the ether since 2025!

Updates From Dewy

It was my birthday this last month! Thanks to everyone for the birthday wishes. Even though I'm a Libra (according to the tropical standards), I first was told that I was a Virgo because my birthday is in September. So I relate to both. I mean, I'm on the cusp so there's always going to be overlap.

Otherwise this month, I've been plugging away at the creative projects and enjoying being a mom.

This Past Month on the Blog

Four new entries since last time. Seems I really have a thing for listicles this month, with ones based on the LGBTQ spectra (and my adventures in them), discussions about tarot (and my adventures in it), and a piece on legalese versus corporatespeak (informed by my adventures in it). Seeing a pattern? Other than the listicles, I also wrote a short essay on the history of the blog and how it came to be. Check them out if any of them interest you. Or don't. I'm not going to force you.

Your Regularly Scheduled Dewy (Monthly Events)

Tarot Readings at Hamilton Underground (Manhattan, NY): October 4 from 12-3

Tarot Readings at The Neverending Story (Babylon, NY): October 18 from 1-9

The Radio Demon in Residence at RPM Underground (Manhattan, NY): October 11 from 4-?

One and Done Events

It's the spooky month! In addition to my normal tarot readings, I'm going to be doing a magic show at Hamilton Underground on the 4th starting at 3:30! Normally magical practitioners don't do illusion (and vice versa), but have I ever been one to fit the mold? Also going to be a whole thing at Neverending Story for the season of spookiness starting at 7:00 on the 18th. You should come! 😊

Shameless Plugs

More Hazbin on Broadway has been released! We only have four more songs in Act 1. After that, things should be picking up!

Schmoopy Schmoopy Doopy,
